Doctoral programmes with high interaction

Based on the outcomes of a cross-referencing of available degrees in the partners institutions, the list of doctoral programs below involving at least three partners represents the programs with the highest level of interaction among partners. It seems obvious that several clusters can be formed. These items will be further consolidated by the partners. Each domain originates from one of the partners, which is why each domain is attributed to its respective partner. Consequently, Health Science is a doctoral program of ULL.

Next steps

The partners will undertake the elaboration of common guidelines for the implementation of joint doctoral degrees. These guidelines will address at least the terms and conditions for delivering a joint degree, including tuition fees, mobility, etc.

They will furthermore establish a joint catalogue of doctoral courses available in the partner institutions and accessible for all partners.
